Bijou Today in "The Nation's Peril" Difficulty in Abbeville. Visitors from Abbeville yesterday told of quite an exciting personal encounter on the streets of that city between Dr. Hill and Mr. William Wilson. The latter was stabbed in the face twice by Dr. Hill but was not seriously hurt. Dr. Hill was somewhat roughly used in the mixup.

REUNION ENDS; ALL WERE HAPPY

er the fact that so many veterans came to Anderson and assured them of the fact that their enjoyment of the occasion was sufficient to give him a great deal of pleasure as well. The benediction was pronounced by Col. F. O. S. Curtiss, adjutant of the division, of Colleton county, and the 1914 meeting was concluded.

The Parade. The parade yesterday afternoon was one of the most magnificent sights ever witnessed by Anderson people; people from other sections of the State spoke in the highest terms of the display made. Let by the marshals, the parade began promptly at 5 o'clock and down Main street from the post office to the Plaza came the line of gray heroes. With Gen. B. H. Teague, a most striking figure, at the head of the Veterans the wildest enthusiasm was evoked on every side and cheers and applause could be heard for blocks as the soldiers of '61 passed by. Waves and salutes were returned by the veterans with the Stars and Bars proudly floating in the breeze the spectacle was one to inspire any Southern man with a feeling of patriotism.

The First and Second Regiment bands and the Zion band furnished the music for the parade and did splendidly. The Palmetto Rifles acquitted themselves in fine shape and their march called forth comments from the crowd. The Boy Scouts were a feature and when the Sponsors and Maids came by the crowds went wild. The Anderson fire department and the police department also made quite a brave show in the parade.

Last night at 8 o'clock was held a grand reception at the Hotel Chiquola where was gathered the beauty and the elect of the city to meet the veterans and the official ladies of the reunion. The reception continued for an hour and at 9 o'clock the annual Confederate Reunion Ball was begun. This event taking place in Maple hall. The music was furnished for the ball by the military bands and Anderson's beautiful women and Anderson's young men, together with the hundreds of visitors and the scores of officers and ladies of the reunion danced the hours away. The ball lasted until a late hour and it came as a fitting climax to two of the biggest days Anderson has ever known and to two of the happiest day the veterans have ever spent. The 1914 reunion is over.

Stokes Will Preach Next Sunday Morning and Night. (Keowee Courier.) The general public of Wehalla and especially the church-going people of the town, will be interested in the fact that next Sunday Dr. J. L. Stokes of his ministerial labors by preaching sermons morning and night, taking as his texts and subjects for the two services Scripture lessons with appropriate bearing upon this anniversary occasion. Forty years is a long term of service, but Dr. Stokes has rounded out this period, and it is but fitting that he should draw from the ripe experience of his labors for the Master lessons that may well be given to the people for their consideration and careful thought. Dr. Stokes always has something well worth while for his hearers to listen to and take home to ponder over, and we feel sure that all who hear him next Sunday will have abundant cause to congratulate themselves upon their good fortune. Not only the members of Dr. Stokes's congregation are urged to attend, but everybody, no matter of what denomination, or whether of any denomination, is invited and urged to attend. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these special services at the Methodist church next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours for services. You will be well repaid for any special effort put forth to enable you to attend either or both the services.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Freckles. How to Remove Easily. Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion, the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.
